LUKE KELLY

Luke is a web producer at Sybase during the day but interns with TEN|10 as he is able. Currently, he is assisting us with a pro-bono project for Habitat for Humanity of Grand County. Luke is a former Testing Lead and Instructional Design Analyst at Accenture (2005–2009) and served as a Project Manager and Course Developer at eCollege from 1999–2005. He received his Masters of Applied Science, Web Design and Development in 2008 from the University of Denver. He graduated with honors, completing all of his courses with a 4.0 cumulative GPA.

Luke and his wife, Jane, are the proud parents of a beautiful little girl. His portfolio is available at www.cyberiawebsolutions.com.
